MASON MAN CHARGED WITH SERIOUS CRIME IN BRACKEN COUNTY

Dual Froge, of the Minerva Neighborhood, Arrested Monday Night and Taken to Bracken County Jail to Face Serious Charge of Seduction.

Deputy Sheriff C. M. Devore on Monday evening arrested Dual Froge, aged about 21 years, who lives on the Walton pike near the Mason-Bracken county line, on a warrant charging him with seduction, issued in the Bracken county court and turned him over to Deputy Sheriff Thompson, of Bracken county, who immediately took the young man to Brooksville and lodged him in the Bracken county jail pending a preliminary hearing.

Froge was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Devore about 6 o'clock Monday evening while he was riding on his motorcycle near the Dexter store, Deputy Sheriff Thompson of Bracken county, was waiting the prisoner at Minerva and when the officers had crossed the Bracken-Mason line, the prisoner was turned over to the Bracken authorities.

The warrant was issued on complaint of a fifteen year old girl by the name of Litzinger, who lives just across the line in Bracken county on the Walton pike near the home of Froge. It is alleged that the fifteen year old girl is to become a mother and she charges Froge. None of the other particulars of the case are known here.

MANY COMING TO SEE BIG FEATURE PICTURE

There will be a great crowd in Maysville Wednesday evening to see the big feature picture, "The Shepherd of the Hills" at the Washington theater. This picture has been advertised very extensively all over this section of the country and many people from nearby towns are expected to be in attendance. Requests for seats have been coming in from these towns by long distance telephone.

DOVER CASES WILL NOT BE TRIED DURING THIS TERM

Adams and Berry Have Lawyers and Will Not Be Ready For Trial This Term They Tell Judge When Brought Out Today.

As both William Adams and John Berry, Dover men charged with carnally knowing a female under 16 years of age, had been anxious for a trial during the present term of court, they were brought into court this morning on orders of Judge Newell for the purpose of fixing a time for their trial.

Judge Newell appointed Attorney C. L. Daly, who represented Adams in the lower court, to represent him in his final trial and Berry announced that he had retained Attorney A. D. Cole to represent him. The court asked them if they wanted a trial this term and both men stated that they had desired a trial this term until they had talked with their lawyers but that they were now of the opinion that they could not be ready for a trial during the present term and they were taken back to jail in default of bail.

It is understood that Berry is endeavoring to give bail as it has been reduced from $2,000 to $1,000 but it is not likely that Adams will endeavor to give bail and will remain in the local jail until the December term of court for trial.

WATCHING REDS CINCH THE PENNANT

Captain Lee Curry, master of the Sunshine Boat Club's boat, is in Cincinnati where on Monday he helped the Reds blank the Giant and he will remain over today to root for his favorites. A special session of the Lime Kiln Club will be held the first night after his return when the games will be played over in detail for the benefit of the "corner crowd" who were unable to attend.

MANY ATTENDING BEREIA COLLEGE

The enrollment at Berea College will certainly be very large this year. Never before have so many people from this section attended that school but some thirty-five or forty young people from this and adjoining counties have passed through Maysville in the past couple of days en route to matriculate for this year.

Local physicians report that there are hundreds of bad fall colds in Maysville and Mason county and although none of these colds are considered of a very serious nature, they are causing the people considerable trouble and annoyance.

Miss Anna King and Miss Ada Dugan were in Cincinnati yesterday on business.

SCHOOL PRINCIPAL IS EXONERATED OF POLICE COURT CHARGE

Prof. W. T. Berry Proven Innocent of Charge Made Against Him by School Boy—Imagination All That Could Substantiate Charges.

There has not been a case tried in the local police court in recent years that has attracted the attention of the trial of Prof. W. T. Berry, principal of the Forest Avenue School, one of the oldest, in point of service, and recognized as one of the best school teachers in Maysville, which was held before Police Judge John L. Whitaker Monday afternoon after school hours.

Prof. Berry had been charged in a warrant with Breach of the Peace for an alleged injuring of Stanley Nicholson, fourteen year old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Nicholson, of the Fifth Ward.

The evidence in the case as given for the defendant through the defendant himself and Miss Gray, the grade teacher in whose room the disorder for which the boy was punished was committed, was that young Nicholson had fallen to keep a seat in the front row, where he had been placed by the teacher for punishment. In the rest room the boy met the principal and evidently he thought that Prof. Berry was going to paddle him for he started to run out of the room. The principal tried to grab the boy but he was too fast and dodged him. The boy ran across the wide hall and started down the stairway, when he fell and rolled down the steps knocking out a tooth and bruising his neck. He was carried back into the rest room by the principal and later given a paddling. The evidence showed that when the boy fell down the steps, Prof. Berry was at least 27 feet from him and in giving his judgment, Judge Whitaker pointed this out, saying that it was physically impossible for Prof. Berry to have been guilty of pushing the boy down the steps as he had charged.

Stanley Nicholson, the boy who was injured, stated the case almost as the teachers had stated it except that he said Prof. Berry pushed him down the stairway.

William Poor, a little boy who had told about the neighborhood that he had seen Prof. Berry push the boy down steps, broke down on the witness stand and admitted that saw none of the trouble except that he heard the noise and saw Stanley Nicholson falling down the stairway.

Judge Whitaker, in giving his opinion, made it very plain that school teachers had a perfect right to administer punishment for misbehavior in the schools but that this punishment must not be brutal. He said that all the facts in the case proved beyond a reasonable doubt that it would have been a physical impossibility for Prof. Berry to have pushed the lad down the steps as was charged and dismissed the case.

After the decision had been given, Prof. Berry made a short talk in which he assured both the boy and his father that he had no ill feeling in the matter and City Attorney Charles Daly made a short talk in which he praised the great American free school system as the highest type of Democracy in the world and advised the school children present that they must obey the school rules or suffer punishment and at the same time assured them that when that punishment became brutal they had access to the courts. Mr. Daly stated that there was nothing in the case to warrant a fine and approved Judge Whitaker's decision.

TREATY FIGHT MAY SPLIT THE DEMOCRATS

Party Lines Dim Everywhere, "Shot to Pieces" in Middle West, Says Lewis.

Washington, September 16.—A distinct division within the Democratic party, one branch standing for the traditional American policy, with isolation from European entanglements, and the other standing for President Wilson's policy of making the United States a distinctive world, Power, in touch with all parts of the globe, and a world force, is growing more imminent every day.

The cleavage is expected to become pronounced before the opening of the presidential campaign next year.

From all indications the most spirited fight in the Democratic National Convention will be in regard to the question of whether the policy of a century is to be reversed and the United States become a "world figure," with its activities projected into foreign lands.

One element of the party is determined that the United States ought to "keep its nose out of the foreign affairs" and heed the advice of Washington and the other "fathers of the country" in regard to "entangling alliances."

The forces that are determined to put the Democratic party on record as favoring the traditional policy already are active.

The prospective line of cleavage was forecast in an interview with former United States Senator James Hamilton Lewis, made public in the capital.

When he was a member of the Senate Mr. Lewis served as the Democratic "whip," and it is known that he is in high favor at the White House. The former Senator prefaced his statement by saying that in the Middle West party lines are "shot to pieces."

"SANDOS RETURNS"; SEE HIM AT THE PASTIME TOMORROW

Marge Kennedy will appear in "A Perfect Lady" a special "Goldwyn" production. This is a big double show that should please everyone.

MAYSVILLE WINS FROM MAYSICK

George Duley's Maysville baseball team defeated the Maysick team on Sunday by a score of 7 to 5. Toby Dinger went in as a pinch hitter in the eighth inning and brought home the bacon. The game was won in this inning by a squeeze play of Wilson and Dice. Duley was quite effective in the box in the latter part of the game.

MORROW RAPS HARKNESS AND BINGHAM CASES

Republican Candidate Promises to Fire Stanley Lawyers If Elected to Office.

Horse Cave, Ky., September 16.—Ed P. Morrow, Republican nominee for Governor, was received favorably here last night by 800 citizens of Hart county. Former Representative R. T. Smith presided and Mr. Morrow was introduced by Roy B. Speck, Republican nominee for clerk of the Court of Appeals.

Mr. Morrow in his speech charged that the last two Democratic administrations had created 315 new jobs, nearly all of which were useless, at an annual expense of more than $500,000. Mr. Morrow denounced in the strongest terms the compromise of the Harkness case, which he said cost the state $3,500,000.

Referring to the Bingham tax inheritance case, Mr. Morrow remarked that his distinguished friend, Governor Black, had said that he didn't know what he could do about the contract which Governor Stanley entered into with private attorneys to collect this pay. Mr. Morrow said he knows exactly what he will do. He said if elected Governor his first act will be to call before him these attorneys and that he will speak to them as follows: "Give me the papers in the Bingham case."

SERIOUS MILK SHORTAGE IN MAYSVILLE THREATENED

Drouth In This Section Has Dried Up Pastures and Cut Off Stock Water So That Milk Supply Is Being Reduced Rapidly.

Local dairymen say that unless there is a considerable change in conditions in a very short time, the people of the city of Maysville will be facing a very serious shortage of milk. The milk shortage is already being felt in this city. The price has advanced within the past two weeks and several local dairymen have not only been compelled to cut off some of their customers but some are considering discontinuing the delivery of milk at all.

Pastures have dried up as never before in many years and the stock water is so very short that it is with great difficulty that the dairymen find water for their cows.

A number of dairymen are reported as having permitted their cows to be turned dry on account of general conditions on the farm and all indications are that within a couple of weeks milk will be at a very high premium and hard to obtain at any price.

ham case," and when he gets the papers he will say, "You're fired. Get out. Goodbye."

SHEEP WHITE'S TRIAL IS SET FOR THURSDAY

Colored Man Charged With Robbery Will Be Given a Hearing in Circuit Court on Next Thursday—Time Fixed Today.

By agreement between County Attorney W. H. Rees and Attorney Frank P. O'Donnell, who represents the defendant, Judge Newell today fixed the time of William "Sheep" White's trial for next Thursday, September 18. White has been very anxious for a trial this term as he desires to know his fate.

It will be remembered that White is charged with having robbed Frank William Slack, aged citizen, of about $16 in money more than a year ago in Graves alley, when it is alleged, White knocked the aged man down and rifled his pockets. Mr. Slack is now in a Cincinnati hospital on account of serious illness and will not likely be present at the trial, however, in the lower courts upon preliminary examination the circumstantial evidence as given by the officers of the police department, was very strong.

White has been in the army and only recently returned, having left Maysville when this attack is alleged to have happened and having not returned until a few weeks ago.

Plant Seed the Right Way

Wheat has been grown since the early days of Egypt.

There has been a great improvement, however, in the method of seeding—and the grain drill today takes its place alongside the reaper and binder in making possible the economical and efficient handling of a crop.

Wouldn't you use a drill if you knew that every seed were deposited in a packed seed-bed, right at the very bottom of the furrow? Then, the soil is released, covering the seed perfectly at a uniform depth below the surface, making it impossible for seed to be picked up birds or blown away by wind? Of course anybody would.

Yours, to prove that the wheat drills we sell does this very thing.

HOW SON WE ARE FORGOTTEN

It is rather remarkable that the Democratic platform convention which was held in Louisville Thursday failed to pay some small tribute to the late Senator Ollie M. James.

This of course was purely an oversight. Senator James at his death was easily the most popular Democrat in Kentucky, as he was one of the most widely known in the nation, and had opportunity been given the convention Thursday would have been moved to say something handsome out of respect to his memory.

This failure, after so brief a season, by a convention of Kentucky Democrats to take fitting action relative to the passing of one who had rendered to the party such conspicuous service, is simply another evidence of the proneness of mankind to be grateful for favors to come, rather than for favors in the past, of a disposition, unfortunately too general, to permit the absorptions of the present moment to submerge those finer qualities in our natures which form the basis of everything in our lives that are really worth while.

The Leader seldom agreed with Senator James politically, but there was much that was admirable in his rugged personality, and whatever else his political foes might have said about him, no man could charge that he was not always loyal to his State and its people.—Lexington Leader.

JOHN BARRYMORE A LAWYER IN HIS LATEST PHOTOPLAY

Famous Paramount Star Seen to Exceptional Advantage in "Here Comes the Bride."

Portraying the role of a poor lawyer who is in love with the beautiful daughter of a millionaire, but who weds an ugly widow "with a past" to win a reward of $100,000, John Barrymore, the talented Paramount star will be seen in one of the most humorous roles of his screen career in "Here Comes the Bride," which will be displayed at the Gem theater next Tuesday.

Mr. Barrymore is one of the best known actors in the country and he is now appearing in Tolstoy's play, "Redemption" at a New York theater with great success. Notwithstanding that much of his time is taken up with this attraction, he finds time to devote many hours to motion picture work.

In "Here Comes the Bride," Mr. Barrymore has the part of a poor struggling lawyer who is induced to wed a strange widow for a bribe of $100,000, despite the fact that he loves the beautiful daughter of a corn magnate. She loves him, but the father is opposed to the match. This unfortunate marriage provokes numerous interesting as well as humorous situations in all of which the artistry of Mr. Barrymore is finely displayed.

The heroine of the story is portrayed by Faïre Binney, a charming actress who won popular favor by her characterization in the Paramount-Artercraft special picture, "Sporting Life." Miss Binney has won many admirers by her conscientious work and personal charm. The supporting company is of the best and includes such well known players as Frank Losee, Frances Kaye, Alfred Hickman and others.

Health About Gone

Many thousands of women suffering from womanly trouble, have been benefited by the use of Cardui, the woman's tonic, according to letters we receive, similar to this one from Mrs. Z. V. Spell, of Hayne, N. C. "I could not stand on my feet, and just suffered terribly," she says. "As my suffering was so great, and he had tried other remedies, Dr. — had us get Cardui. . . I began improving, and it cured me. I know, and my doctor knows, what Cardui did for me, for my nerves and health were about gone."

CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

She writes further: "I am in splendid health . . . can do my work. I feel I owe it to Cardui, for I was in dreadful condition." If you are nervous, run-down and weak, or suffer from headache, backache, etc., every month, try Cardui. Thousands of women praise this medicine for the good it has done them, and many physicians who have used Cardui successfully with their women patients, for years, endorse this medicine. Think what it means to be in splendid health, like Mrs. Spell. Give Cardui a trial.

THE GARDEN LADY'S STORIES

(Written for the United States School Garden Army, Department of the Interior.)

Jack the Dreamer and the Miraculous Beans.

By ETHEL ALLEN MURPHY.

PART IV.

She was not a minute too soon, for Jack was no sooner hidden than the Giant, old H-C-O-L, came thundering in. Jack could see him through the crack of the door that had been left ajar, but the Giant was so big that Jack really couldn't take in his appearance.

Old H-C-O-L sat down at the table and began to play with the electric buttons as if he were playing on a piano. Every time he pressed a button there started out the name of something that we like to eat or wear, with its price beside it in huge red letters of fire. Beneath the wall was a huge golden safe. As the Giant played on the prices, bags and bundles of money came pouring through openings in the wall into this great safe. The Giant laughed to see them drop. He played these gack and forth with great delight. Finally he grew tired of that.

"Wife!" he cried, "bring me my hen!"

His wife brought, in a golden cage, a little, weasened, Important-Looking hen with red and golden colored feathers.

"Cluck, cluck! Chuckety-cluck! The man who owns me is surely in luck!"—cackled the hen in a very important manner.

"Lady, my pretty one, lay!" laughed the Giant in a voice like the echo of thunder among the mountains.

The hen laid an egg, and then cackled so long and hard that her little body seemed to fly to pieces.

"Put it in my treasure chest," said the Giant. "It is worth its weight in gold."

"Jack was surprised to see that the egg was not golden at all, but he regarded it with great respect, for he knew its worth."

"Wife," cried the Giant, "bring me my golden hoard." His wife touched a button on the wall and up to the Giant wheeled the huge safe, which the Giant opened and from which he took out packages of money, some large, some small. Each was labeled with the name of its former owner from whom old H-C-O-L had charmed it away. One of these Jack recognized.

It was a little old battered tin box in which his mother kept her savings at home. The next minute the Giant pulled forth a fat earthenware pig which Jack recognized as the bank where he kept his own precious savings.

"The sight of these two objects made Jack so angry that he jumped out of his hiding place and grabbed them out of the Giant's hand. Then he dashed out of the house before the Giant knew what to make of it. "It was a good thing that Jack had the start, for the Giant was very long-legged, and he was perfectly furious when he realized what had happened."

"He rushed out after Jack, upsetting the cage in which was the precious Hen, who flew squawking after him."

"Everything seemed to be in Jack's favor, though, for the old moon-world itself seemed to turn under him and brought him in no time to the bean ladder. The Giant, however, was just behind, and Jack, looking back, was surprised to see old Cuddy Cow chasing after him, too, and moaning pitifully."

"He reached the ladder, tumbled down it, followed by Cuddy Cow, the Hen of the Golden Eggs, and the awful Giant. He came to the bottom of the bean ladder. He rushed frantically to the woodshed for the ax. He chopped down the ladder. Down tumbled old Cuddy Cow, moaning frantically. Down fluttered the hen with a great-cackling. Down came the Giant crashing to earth. My! but it was fortunate he didn't fall on the house, though!"

And Jack awoke! to find himself on the floor of his room in a suburban cottage, with the morning sunlight in his eyes, with a robin's early song in his ears. Mother stood at the door laughing at him.

"Good morning, Jack!" she cried. "Good news!" The price of beef has fallen; butter and eggs have come down, too. Get up. We're going to work in the garden today. You've got to plant your beans that the Garden Lady left and help bring down the H-C-O-L. You know you're one of Uncle Sam's Garden Soldiers now. You are a soldier in the United States School Garden Army."

"Mother," said Jack, "I dreamed about beans, and I dreamed we had a cow, and I sold it for a package of beans, and I climbed a beanstalk and killed a Giant. It was the funniest dream."

HARDTACK IS DELICACY FOR STARVING CHILDREN

Starving Jewish Children in Poland Are Described by American Relief Worker.

New York, September 12.—Starving children in Poland and other war-torn countries of Europe are gratefully eating hardtack to assuage their almost constant hunger.

Hardtack to the average American is vaguely associated with strenuous campaigns as an emergency ration for soldiers and sailors, certainly not as food for little children. Yet, the mere fact that the hard, unsalted, kiln-dried crackers were placed at distributing points, attracted double the usual number of small folks, according to Dr. Boris D. Bogen, head of American Jewish Relief work in Poland, in a report made public here today by the American Jewish Relief Committee.

"This, however, does not tell the story," said Dr. Bogen. "One must see the hundreds and hundreds of children gathered at the doors of the stations waiting—waiting—with eager, hungry faces. I do not understand how people, anywhere, can be quiet and content, when thousands of little children are continuously hungry."

Dr. Bogen referred specifically to conditions in Poland to the east of the Bug River, where automobile trucks are being used to transport hardtack and condensed milk to the children.

"The food situation east of the Bug River continues to be desperate," he said. "I am receiving almost daily reports of lack of food in the districts of Vilma, Lida and especially Baranovicz and Pinsk. These are the places where we are now using automobile delivery of hardtack and milk to the little ones. This work has been exceedingly useful but unfortunately we did not receive in time all the equipment for the automobile trucks and consequently we are not able to run them all and cover all the territory. I expect that during the month of July 200,000 Jewish children were fed through the medium of the Children's Relief Bureau."

RAY-FAIR PRODUCTION IS OPERA ROMANCE

A story which is said to have a special appeal to musicians, and particularly to those who have written the lyrics or music for songs and have had difficulty getting them published, will be told in a motion picture at Pastime tomorrow. The production is a William Fox drama, entitled "Words and Music By—", in which two new stars, Albert Ray and Elinor Fair, are featured.

The actors are seen in the roles, respectively, of composer and singer, and the action deals with their struggles gle to achieve success. The boy has written an opera, part of which is stolen, and the difficulties he encounters in establishing his claim to authorship are not overcome until the end of the picture in a dramatic scene showing the first night of the opera in New York. Much of the action centers about a music publisher's studio in famous Tin Pan Alley. The play is said to be typically American, strong in heart interest and well flavored with comedy and stirring action.

Exhibit Was Popular

The big display made by the College of Agriculture and the Experiment Station at the State Fair last week was a decided success from start to finish. It was bigger and better in every way than the one of last season. It also had a more direct appeal to the public as was shown by the interested people who visited and revisited the exhibit. It is evident that the public may expect a finer exhibit from season to season from these two most popular State Institutions.

DO IT NOW

Maysville People Should Not Wait Until It Is Too Late.

The appalling death-rate from kidney disease is due in most cases to the fact that the little kidney troubles are usually neglected until they become serious. The slight symptoms often give place to chronic disorders and the sufferer may slip gradually into some serious form of kidney complaint.

If you suffer from backache, headaches, dizzy spells; if the kidney secretions are irregular of passage and unnatural in appearance, do not delay. Help the kidneys at once.

Doan's Kidney Pills are especially for kidney disorders—they act where others fail. Over one hundred thousand people have recommended them.

Here is one of many cases in this vicinity.

Jas. M. Newton, Gum, St., Aberdeen, Ohio, says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills off and on for several years and have been greatly benefited. Whenever my back has been weak or when my kidneys have been too frequent in action, I have used a box or so of Doan's Kidney Pills, which I get at Wood & Son's Drug Store. They have always relieved me in a short time."

The duty of the switchboard operator is to answer your number calls and get connections for you.

If she stopped to answer questions, the number of calls would pile up and the service would be delayed; this would be an injustice to the other subscribers.

When in response to a question, the operator says: "I will give you Chief Operator", she is obeying her instruction.

If you cannot find what you want in the telephone directory, ask the operator for "Chief Operator" and she will connect you with the "Chief Operator" where your questions will be promptly answered.

STEPHENS-MILLS

Account of the Wedding of Miss Mabel E. Stephens and Mr. George P. Mills.

The Richmond, Va., News-Leader says: An interesting event of Wednesday evening was the wedding of Miss Mabel E. Stephens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stephens, to George P. Mills, of Cincinnati, Ohio. The ceremony was performed at 6 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, 614 North avenue, in the presence of relatives and friends. The house was beautifully decorated in palms and cut flowers. An aisle was formed, at the end of which were gates through which the bride party passed to an improvised altar. The bride entered the drawing-room with her father, who gave her away. She was dressed in an imported gown of blueorgette crepe with a hat to match, and wore a corsage bouquet of orchids. Miss Martha Frances Herndon was the maid of honor, and wore a semi-evening frock of pale green satin with a large black picture hat. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses. The bridesmaids were Miss Ada Stephens, sister of the bride, and Miss Josephine Herndon, who wore old rose and blue ribbon dresses. They carried pink rosebuds. The ushers included C. K. Hall and H. M. Johnson. The groom had as his best man Charles Stephens, Jr. The music was under the direction of Mrs. Austin W. Martenstein, assisted by Miss Aedele Le Witt on the violin. Several beautiful selections were played before the bride party entered, and during the ceremony "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms" was rendered softly. The ceremony was performed by Rev. O. E. Buchholtz.

SCORES KILLED, HUNDREDS HOMELESS AFTER STORM

Gulf Storms Sweep Corpus Christi and Takes Toll of Many Lives and Much Property.

Dallas, Texas, September 16.—At least 15 bodies have been recovered from the bay at Corpus Christi, Tex., according to despatches reaching here early today, following Sunday's terrific tropical storm.

Many persons, including 35 soldiers in a convalescent camp, are missing. Property damage in the Corpus Christi district is estimated at $3,000,000.

One report received in Dallas from Beeville, Tex., this morning, said 120 bodies had been taken from the Neches bay, between White Point and Portland last night.

Relief was being rushed into the devastated area today. Supplies were expected to be sent from Laredo, San Antonio and other points.

Early reports from refugees from Aransas Pass, Rockport district, indicate property damage there was heavy. The loss of life is not believed great. It was said the town of Port Aransas, on the northeastern end of Mustang Island, was wrecked.

The tidal wave at Corpus Christi was driven inland by a gale of 65 miles an hour. Water was 10 feet deep in the streets. North Shore, the city's pleasure resort, practically was swept clean.

The second list of identified dead includes only residents of Corpus Christi and vicinity.

Among the missing are Captain C. M. Egeland, Company 1, 370th Infantry, U. S. A., commander of the military rest camp, and 35 members of the camp personnel.

The launch Waldo, with a party of 15, left Corpus Christi for Port Aransas on a fishing expedition shortly before the storm struck. No word had been received from the party early today.

Corpus Christi was under martial law today. The wrecked parts of the city, including its two main streets, were segregated to prevent looting. Soldiers from the military post were aiding in caring for the 3000 homeless.

11 CENTS TOO HIGH FOR SUGAR, DECLARES H. C. L. COMMISSION

Louisville, Ky., September 16.—Retail grocers charging more than 11 cents a pound for granulated sugar are charging too much, according to an announcement made today by H. B. Smith, secretary of the Kentucky High Cost of Living Commission. Dealers guilty of sugar profiteering are subject to federal prosecution, he said, and asks that all overcharges be promptly reported. Meat prices, the commission said today, are not declining fast enough in the retail market and it is expected butchering profiteering will come in for the commission's attention this week.

What the Big Flour Sale at the Pure Food Store Found

The big flour sale held at the Cash and Carry Pure Food Store on Friday and Saturday was a big success. Men and women from all over town and the county carried home a 12-pound sack of their favorite brand of flour for only $1.40. Some customers stated that they had been paying as high as $1.85 for the same flour, while our regular price every day is only $1.60 for a 12-pound bag. We consider that a fair profit. The hundreds of men and women visiting our store find that they can get not only flour cheaper than elsewhere, but everything else in the pure food line. We are opposed to this thing of gouging the people for the food they eat.
